

Congratulations on your selfgui.de® purchase! 🎉

Thanks to selfgui.de®, your city trip is set up to be a true success.

We guide you beyond the obvious — helping you discover hidden gems, secret corners, and unforgettable places most travelers walk past without even noticing.

Everything is already prepared for you directly inside Google Maps. No app to install. No fixed route. No stress.

Walk freely, follow your curiosity, and trust your selfgui.de® map to reveal what really matters.

Before You Start

You have received an email containing your selfgui.de® Google Maps links:

- One main link
- One backup link

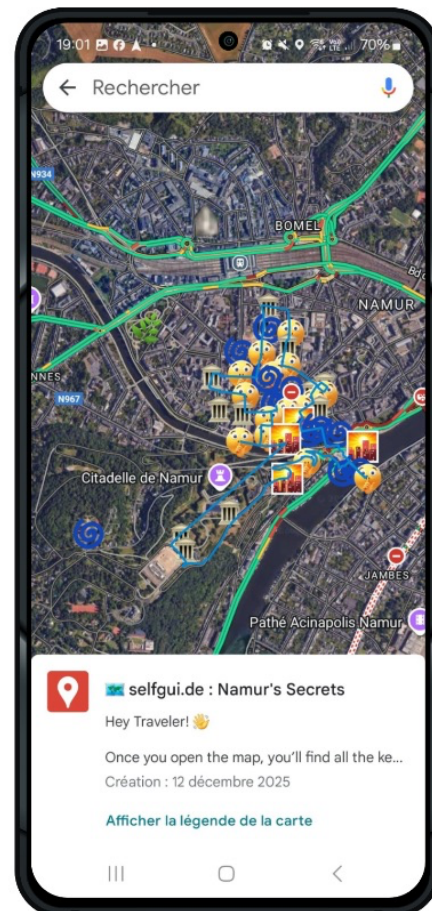

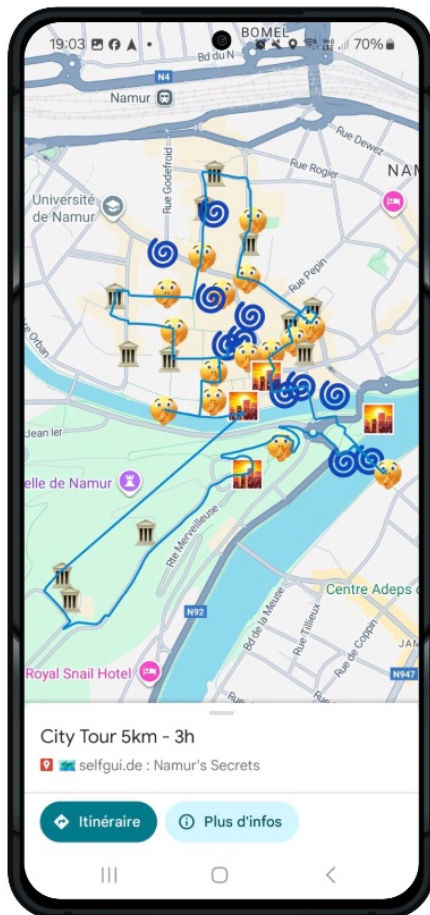

Important:

- If you cannot find the email, please check your spam folder.
- If neither link works, make sure no extra spaces were added when copying the link. This can sometimes happen with certain email providers or partners.

Using Your Map – Visual Guide

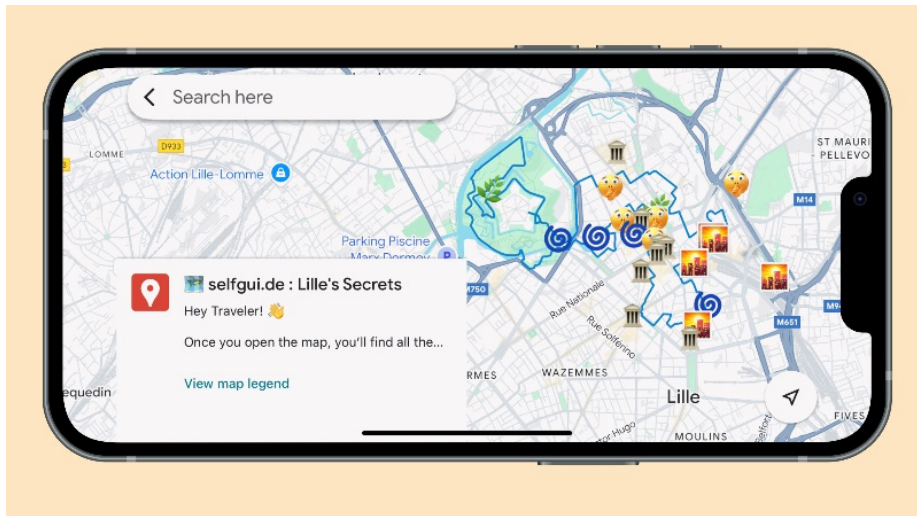

Below are real examples of how your selfgui.de® map looks on Android and iPhone. The experience is very similar on all devices

Android – Google Maps Experience

The tour opens directly in Google Maps. You can zoom, move freely, tap on any point of interest, and start exploring wherever you want.

iPhone – Google Maps Experience

Same experience on iPhone, simply tap a point of interest to open its description. You can read stories, tips, and explanations directly while walking.

Important Tips for the Best Experience

- If content or descriptions do not appear, make sure you have a good internet connection, then click the link again to reload the map.
- There is no mandatory starting point and no fixed direction.
- You can join the tour wherever you are and explore in any order you like.

This experience is designed around freedom and curiosity. See what interests you, skip what doesn't, and take breaks whenever you want.

Thanks to your selfgui.de®, you can wander freely — with the confidence that you will never walk past something unforgettable without realizing it.
